Arrival of the "Santa Cruz."

NINE DAYS LATER NEWS.

The Steamship Santa Cruz, arrived on Sunday evening, about nine o'clock from San Francisco, bringing an Express, and nine days later news from California. The Santa Cruz will hereafter connect with the Pacific at Portland, Oregon. The following is our summary of news. California dates are to the 8th inst.

California.

Judge T. C. Brunson was murdered near Sonora on the 2d inst., by some unknown parties.

David Seawell, Ex-Sheriff of San Francisco, was elected Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of that city on the third. J. G. Corson was elected Assistant at the same time.

R. G. Watkins, formerly a constable of San Francisco, is on trial at Washoe on an indictment for murder in the first degree.

Peter Job's restaurant on Washington street, San Francisco, was destroyed by fire on the 4th.

Caroline F. Park, a mulatto girl, was instantly killed by a negro named Clarkson, on the 2d in San Francisco, who cut her throat with a knife. Jealousy was the cause. Clarkson is in custody.

Mr. L. D. Helms was shot in Sonoma county, on the 29th ult., by an unknown assassin who fired upon him from behind some bushes. He died almost instantly. Several persons are under arrest on suspicion.

Winnemucca, the chief of the Carson Valley Indians, was shot and killed near Virginia, a few days since, by a man named Clark, whose brother had been murdered at Pyramid Lake last June.

Burke, a saloon-keeper, was stabbed on the 3d in San Francisco, and died soon after. His murderer was named Fitzgerald.

The wife of Collector Washington died at San Francisco on the 3d inst.

The States.

The dates from the States are to the 22d ult. A commercial panic had started in the South, and was being felt at the North. The secession movement was supposed to be dying out.

LINCOLN'S POSITION.

There was a grand Republican demonstration at Springfield, Ill., Nov. 20th. Lincoln, the President elect, was called out and briefly returned his thanks. Senator Trumbull spoke at length, and was understood to define Lincoln's policy. He said that, although Mr. Lincoln was the candidate of the Republican party for Chief Magistrate, he would belong neither to that or any other party, but would be the President of the whole country. He said he would defend the State in which he received no vote, against any encroachments on its constitutional rights as soon as he would the one where he received the greatest majority. He remarked that disunionists urged secession now or never, because if they waited until Lincoln was inaugurated they would have no cause for secession. He said that the secession spirit in the South would soon pass away and the Union would be preserved.

THE SECESSIONISTS.

A better feeling prevailed in Georgia. Large meetings were held over the State, but the sentiment was much more conservative. All opposed coercion, and some declared that the election of Lincoln was not cause for secession, but unfriendly legislation was an outrage demanding resistance. President Buchanan threatens to prevent secession. A rupture in the Cabinet is impending. Cobb and Thompson threaten to resign on account of the President's position in regard to secession.

COMMERCIAL PANIC.

The New York banks have decided to accommodate the business men with loans and discounts. This action has caused an easier feeling to prevail in business circles. There is no panic at Boston.

Southern remittances to New York were punctual, and the city banks were ready to the extent of five millions dollars, if necessary. The District of Columbia, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Wheeling banks had suspended. Philadelphia banks of considerable property suspended. The Baltimore banks to-day discounted a million, which afforded much relief to the merchants.

There was no special demand for specie. The leading banks in the South are reported as about to issue scrip based on United States stock, to pass in liquidation of bills to each other. The scrip to bear seven per cent. It was hoped that this would relieve the pressure.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lady Franklin has arrived in the United States; and it is said will shortly visit California.

Several persons have been arrested, including State officials, in Chicago, for a violation of the fugitive slave law. The parties were indicted in the United States District Court.

The whole business portion of Franconia, New Hampshire, was destroyed by fire on the night of Nov. 20th.

The clerks of Jacquet, jeweler, New York, have been arrested on a charge of robbing their employer of 150 gold watches. Jacob Levy has been arrested as receiver.

There is another Kansas war. Fort Scott is taken by Montgomery. Great outrages by free state men are reported. The United States Judge and other officers have been driven out of the Territory into Missouri, by the outlaws. Gen. Harney, with U. S. troops, has been sent to quiet matters.

A fire broke out in Foller's paint store, Chicago, on the 22d, destroying property to the extent of $100,000, partially covered by insurance. A man named Frost was killed.

At New Orleans, on the 18th, the cotton ship J. Emory, laden with cotton and lumber was burned. Loss, $75,000. The ship Wildcat was also damaged by fire. Also two blocks of frame buildings in the Fourth District were burned.

Mexico.

It is stated that ex-Governor Weller of California has been appointed U. S. Minister to Mexico, vice McLane, resigned.

Later dates from Vera Cruz, to the 21st, bring the news of the sacking of the British Legation at Mexico, and the robbery of a million dollars belonging to British bondholders.

Europe.

The European news is meagre, although important. We publish below extracts from dispatches published in the San Francisco papers.

St. Louis, Nov. 21st.

The steamship Glasgow, with dates from Queenstown to Nov. 8th, has arrived.

Fifteen hundred Neapolitan troops, with horses and field pieces, pursued by Sardinians, took refuge in the Papal States, and were arrested by the French Papal troops. They will be disarmed.

After the fall of Gaeta Garibaldi will retire to private life.

St. Louis, Nov. 22d.

The Palestine, with dates from London-derry to Nov. 10th, has arrived.

Victor Emanuel arrived at Naples, Nov. 6th, in company with Garibaldi; there were great festivities.

The dissolution of the Pope's general army was positive. He will have left only a simple guard of three thousand men.

The steamship Africa, with dates to Nov. 10th, has arrived.

Victor Emanuel has formally accepted the sovereignty of Naples.

Garibaldi has resigned the dictatorship and departed for his "Island home" at Capri.

St. Louis, Nov. 23d.

The steamship Arago, from Cowes, the 14th, has just arrived.

Negotiations for the capitulation of Gaeta are reported to have commenced, though Francis refuses to evacuate the town, relying on the strength of the fortress. The siege works are actively continued.

Wheat has declined in England.

Australia.

Letters from Melbourne and Sydney, received in San Francisco, say commercial affairs are absolutely in a ruinous condition. Columns of insolvents appear daily in the newspapers.

A serious riot occurred at Melbourne in consequence of the Upper House refusing to concur in a bill inaugurating a land system similar to that of the United States. The mob broke the doors and windows of the capitol with stones, and drove off the police. Many persons were seriously wounded. The government dare not prosecute the ring-leaders of the riot.

Government has started an expedition for the exploration of the unknown interior of Australia.

China and Japan.

The bark "Onward" arrived yesterday from Kanagawa, Japan, in the remarkably short space of twenty-nine days. Her Chinese dates are to the 8th and 9th Oct.:

The allied fleet had left Tysing for Pekin about September 8th. Before reaching Tongehau, it was attacked by a large fleet of Tartars, who were repulsed with great loss. Tongehau was then given up to be sacked. The allied fleet had also taken the forts at the mouth of the Peiho.

On September 1st, several Englishmen of rank had been taken and imprisoned by the Chinese. At last advices the fleet was in sight of Pekin.

The trade at Shanghai was dull, and the market was overcrowded with foreign imports.

At Hongkong trade has revived, and promised to be firm. Small vessels were in demand for the coast.

At Yokahama, Japan, trade was dull. Mr. Harris, American Minister, had taken no action in the matter at Hakodadi.

The British Commissary Department had broken up on account of there being a large quantity of provisions for the army in the north. The British brig-of-war Camilla left Hakodadi, Sept. 7th, and was lost in a typhoon off Kanagawa, Sept. 9th—all hands perished.

The most of the storehouses at Yokahama were destroyed. A Prussian brig, name unknown, was lost in the same gale, also a Japanese man-of-war.

The Prussian Minister could procure no treaty, as the Japanese had refused to treat with them.—San Francisco Herald, 7th.

LATER.

By private advices to C. W. Brooks & Co., by the ship Florida, we have received the following:

The news from Japan is unimportant. Business was dull and trade much affected by the late change in the currency. Money was scarce, and difficult to obtain at any rate. Mexican dollars were selling at twenty-five cents premium, and whalers' bills had been taken at 75 to 90 cents discount.

The schooner Alert sailed for Honolulu, Oct. 29th.

The day before the Florida left Hakodadi a steamer arrived from Shanghai, with interesting news from the seat of war. No papers were received, but from private correspondence we learn that the Allies had advanced to within six miles of Pekin, and that the city was soon to be attacked.

The Allies had had several engagements with the Chinese, and, it was reported, had massacred 300,000 (?) Chinese, in retaliation for the cruel treatment by them of a party of English officers, who had been taken prisoners while bearing a flag of truce, and after having been tortured, were sent back to the Allies with their eyes put out and their nails torn out.

Mr. Parker, formerly Consul at Shanghai, and Mr. Clark, correspondent of the London Times, were prisoners at Pekin.

The Emperor had fled from Pekin.—San Francisco Herald, 7th.

The News.

The news by the Santa Cruz is of a very interesting character. Lincoln being elected beyond all doubt by the popular vote, the southern secessionists are clamorous for a dissolution of the Union, and the formation of a Southern confederacy. A cabinet meeting had taken place to consider the present political crisis, when it appeared that it was divided in opinion. The President appears determined to stand by the Union, whilst the Southern members of the cabinet appear favorable to disunion. The President is reported to have said that it was folly to think of a peaceable severance of the bonds that connect the North with the South. If so, it clearly indicates the ground which he is prepared to take. At a large and enthusiastic meeting at Springfield, Illinois, Mr. Lincoln made a speech, and was followed by Senator Trumbull. The latter is credited with uttering the policy which Mr. Lincoln will pursue in case the Southern secessionists attempt to carry out their suicidal doctrines. Trumbull denies that secession is practicable. The constitution does not recognize the right of a State to secede; consequently if South Carolina insists on withdrawing from the confederacy, a revolution will follow. If a revolution occurs he holds that it must be crushed, and the Union preserved at all hazards. Such being the programme of the President and the President elect, should any of the Southern States secede they will be whipped into subjection, and instead, as heretofore, being bound to the Federal Government by the ties of a common race, language, and republican principles, and by a bond of affection, they will be reduced to the position of conquered provinces.

The secession movement has produced no political results beyond speeches and resolutions breathing hostility to the Republicans and the Union. The financial results are, however, of an alarming character. The banks in the north, west, and south are suspending payment. Legislative aid is sought by some to indemnify them from the violation of their charters. A financial crisis is upon the country. There is no denying it. It does not appear to have originated as formerly, from over-trading and an undue expansion of the credit system; but from the gloomy forebodings consequent upon the intensity of the Southern secession movement. The injury to Southern merchants is already computed at hundreds of thousands of dollars; but more particularly to South Carolina, the hot-bed of dissension. Should the secession feeling not cool down soon, the deplorable results will be incalculable, and the financial shock will be likely to equal that of '37.

The news from Italy betokens the conclusion of the revolutionary movement for a time. Victor Emmanuel has entered Naples, and formally accepted the dominion of Bomba. Thus the revolution of Southern Italy is complete. The disordered elements of the revolution there will seek repose under the constitutional sway of the King of Sardinia. How the invasion of the Papal States will be healed is not clear, from our meagre advices. The army of the Pope being disbanded, his States will be under the protection of the French army of 60,000 and the French Emperor. He will consequently be little better than a State prisoner of France. The resignation and retirement of Garibaldi shows that the influence of France and the German States have prevailed to check his march to liberate Italy from the Alps to the Mediterranean. The Pope will retain a nominal control over his States and Venetia, till the new possessions of Victor Emmanuel are consolidated, when it is probable that Garibaldi will again be called from his retirement to free Venetia. The future of the Pope is a problem already solved. His temporal power will soon disappear. It will be impossible for priestcraft and priestly rule to exist in contact with the mild and constitutional government of Victor Emmanuel. It will have to give way when the dreams of Italian patriots will become reality in United Italy. Without Garibaldi no revolution could succeed. His withdrawal at this time may therefore be attributed not to the relinquishment of his promise to liberate Italy, but to the postponement of it for a time, and thus avoid a general European war.

The Ship John Marshall Really Lost

The schooner Iro arrived yesterday afternoon from San Juan harbor and its vicinity, bringing intelligence confirmatory of the reports heretofore published in the COLONIST, regarding the rumored loss of the ship John Marshall, and a small schooner, the name of which is supposed to be the Dance. The captain of the Iro brings with him a portion of the head-board of the John Marshall, upon which the name of that unfortunate vessel can be plainly seen. She is supposed to have struck and gone down about seven or eight miles beyond San Juan, and near Cape Flattery, on the night of the 10th Nov., during the same gale in which the D. L. Clinch was castaway. A great portion of the rigging, one of the masts, and many other articles were picked up by the Iro on the beach. About fifteen feet of a small schooner, supposed to be named the Dance, (from the fact that a head-board with that name upon it was found near the place where the John Marshall is thought to have gone down) was also seen, and portions of her rigging saved.

There is not the least room for doubt but that the John Marshall has been lost with all on board. She was in ballast from San Francisco, and was bound for the Port Discovery Mills for a cargo of lumber. Her crew must have consisted of some ten or twelve persons. She had been engaged in the lumber business on the Sound for three years past, was about 400 tons burthen, and was owned by the proprietors of the Port Discovery Mills.

In regard to the Dance, nothing is known as to where she was from or where bound, and she was evidently a stranger in these parts.

The captain of the Iro informs us that although he searched the beach for several miles he saw no bodies; but nevertheless believes that not a soul escaped from either vessel, as they must have been wrecked over five weeks ago, during which time the crews would have had ample time to have repositioned themselves had they been alive.

THE "SANTA CRUZ."—The whole town was much pleased to see this fine steamship moored at Kaindl's wharf, yesterday morning, discharging about 200 tons of freight which she had brought from San Francisco and Portland, Oregon. It is many a long day since our citizens have seen a San Francisco steamship at a Victoria wharf, and her presence in our harbor created much agreeable surprise. We hold it to be the duty of merchants and others to support the line to which the Santa Cruz belongs, as far as lies in their power, to the exclusion of the mail-company. The latter has had the opportunity, the capital, and the inducements held out to it for making an arrangement whereby freight could be landed at Victoria wharves instead of Esquimalt. They have neglected to improve the advantages they possessed, and we hope the opposition line, as long as it continues its present course will prosper abundantly.

Friends.—The hardest thing in the world is to find a friend without a failing; but of all the faults, preserve us from the intimate acquaintance of a man who deals in "soft sawdaw," whose voice is a cross between a low groan and a whisper, and whose eyes wander anywhere else but to the face of the person whom he is praising. These "soft sawdaw" chaps will bear a deal of sharp watching.

THE LATEST AMERICAN OUTRAGE.—A friend met us yesterday morning and asked if we had heard of the latest American outrage? We replied we had not. "Well," said he, "a steamer has been sent to cruise (Santa Cruz) in Victoria harbor." The individual made off before we could call the police to take him in charge.

ENLARGED.—Our Portland cotemporary, the Advertiser, comes to us much enlarged and improved. The Advertiser is an enterprising and valuable exchange.

ON THE WAY.—The barks Glencoe, D. M. Hall, and W. B. Seranton, are on their way from San Francisco for this port; and the J. B. Lunt and Orik are up for the Sound.

THANKS.—To the purser of the steamer Santa Cruz for full files of San Francisco papers; and to Mr. Tripp, for late Oregon papers.

UP.—The Stark theatrical troupe has left Portland for the Dalles.

UP.—The steamer California left Portland for San Francisco on the 12th.

THE BRITISH COLONIST

Tuesday Morning, Dec. 18, 1860.

TEST OF LIBERALITY.—On Friday evening four gentlemen rushed into our office, their countenances beaming with a mirth-provoking intelligence and inquired for the senior of the quill-department. On that person making his appearance, he was requested to be the medium of conveying to the Royal Hospital Committee a donation of $40. The unexpected liberality of the donors, combined with the lateness of the hour (about twelve) at first impressed us with the idea that some unexpected streak of good luck had overtaken them; or that some spirit from the vasty deep had charged them to make restitution. But it turned out that our perceptions were wrong. It appeared that two gentlemen, whilst taking some of the fluid "that maketh glad the heart of man," attempted to underrate each other's liberality. Each averred the other was a miser, and himself a philanthropist. Each bantered the other to give as much as he would to any benevolent institution—whereupon one offered to give $20 to the Royal Hospital. The other immediately covered it with another twenty. A bystander, who had doubts as to the earnestness of their purpose, became treasurer, and knowing that the Colonist was the personalification of liberality and virtue, the party came to our sanctum, where the money was handed over to us—the donors remaining sensible to the last. We have therefore great pleasure in stating that we have paid over to the Secretary of the Hospital Committee the forty dollars, as a donation from Messrs. Solomon Shannon and Phineas Heilbon. If any one hereafter denies the liberality of these gentlemen, they can get "the papers" to disprove the soft insinuation.

STRANGE AFFAIR.—Yesterday morning information was conveyed to the Chief of Police, that the body of a white female child was lying on Mr. Ross' farm. The Chief and Sergeant Taylor immediately proceeded to the spot and found the body of a partly-formed child, apparently recently killed. The head was completely crushed in; there were no other marks of violence upon the body. It is to be hoped that if any person can give any information relative to this mysterious affair, they will at once communicate with Dr. Dickson, the coroner. The supposition is that the body found is the result of an abortion.

COLONIAL THEATRE.—This evening there will be a rare entertainment at this theatre. Mr. Oliver, the well-known vocalist, who has performed at every benefit given in this city for many months past, will himself come before the public in the character of a beneficiary, and we hope there is not a theatre-goer in Victoria who will neglect to attend. "Who Speaks First," a delightful comedy, will be the first piece; to be followed by a Musical Olio, in which Mr. Oliver, Miss Lulu Sweet, Mr. Beatty, and other well-known artistes will participate. The entertainment will conclude with the comic drama of "Cavaliers and Roundheads."

REMOVAL.—From an Extra Register of Port Townsend, we learn that, by a vote of the Legislature, the capitol of Washington Territory has been removed to Vancouver; also, a land office on a peremptory are to be located at Port Townsend, and a university at Seattle. The Republicans voted against the bills.

WHISKY SELLERS.—Maurice O'Reilly and Martin Norman were yesterday convicted in the police court of having sold a can of alcohol to an Indian, and fined £10 each, or in default, suffer three months imprisonment with hard labor in the chain-gang.

ALL RIGHT ONCE MORE.—On the 7th inst., H. M. S. Termagant came down from the U. S. Navy Yard at Mare Island, and anchored in San Francisco harbor, appearing none the worse for the injuries she received by the fall of the dry-dock.

We are indebted to W. F. Herre, Yates street, for copies of Harper's Weekly, Yankee Notions, Boston Journal, and other valuable Eastern exchanges.

Yesterday morning there were 32 prisoners in jail, including 3 for debt and 3 insane.

J. W. Sullivan, of San Francisco, has laid us under obligations for files of Eastern papers.

ARRIVALS AT PORT DISCOVERY.—On Friday last, the brig E. A. Seaburn, arrived at Port Discovery, in eight days from San Francisco. She is horn-madrigle rigged, of three hundred and fifty tons measurement—being the largest vessel of her class, and as fleet as any that ever visited these waters. She is brand new, just out from Boston, and is commanded by Captain Freeman Trask, formerly of the Auckland, and later of the Ork. The Iwanowna, Captain Leman, arrived on the same day, in 17 days from San Francisco. There are three now loading in that port—the N. S. Perkins, the E. A. Seaburn, and the Iwanowna.—P. T. Northwest.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Biliousness, Dyspepsia. There is no organ in the human body so liable to derangement as the liver. Food, fatigue, climate and anxiety, all disorder its action, and render its secretion, the bile more or less depraved, superabundant or scanty. The first symptoms should receive attention. A pain in the side or the top of the shoulder, a harsh cough or difficulty of breathing are signs of the liver disease, which are removed without delay by friction with Holloway's inestimable Ointment. The pills should also be taken early. For all diseases of this vital organ the action of these conjoined remedies is a specific by checking the over supply of bile, regulating its secretion, and giving nervous tone.

CITY TRADE REPORT.

MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 17th, 1860.
Business to-day has been very quiet, and the prospects are we shall have a dull week. The Santa Cruz, which arrived last evening, brought a large amount of Flour from Portland, and there is no fear but we shall be fully supplied from that quarter in future. Flour is firm in San Francisco, with considerable transactions. In Portland, the stocks are diminishing, and the "Advertiser" calls upon the farmers to hurry in their produce. We quote Oregon Flour to-day at $4.50@4.75 per hhd; Golden Gate, superfine, $5.50@5.75. Lard and Bacon, for good brands, command a high price, fully equal to last week's quotations. China Sugar is steady, at 80@81¢ per lb; China Rice, No. 1, at previous rates. Adamantine Candles are steady, and are selling, in 20-lb packages, at 27½¢ @30¢ per lb. In general articles the market is unchanged.
